² Applications must submit full applications to DOE 31 days after notification of DOE's concept paper determination. The Energy Commission will determine final proposal dates based on ARPA-E application due dates.

³ Awards will be made within ninety (90) days of the full application deadline.
